PLUNGE INTO SOCIAL PROGRAM WHEN LANDED AT WRANGELL, ALASKA

By Associated Press.
Wrangell, Alaska, Sept. 1.—The aftermath of a ship wreck turned into a picnic today as 270 tourists from the coastwise Canadian steamer Princess Charlotte, rescued when the vessel struck a reef near here Tuesday night, plunged into a program of social events here while awaiting the arrival of a relief ship to take them to Vancouver.

The beleaguered excursionists, who included many wealthy residents of the United States and Canada, were landed in Wrangell late yesterday.

The citizens entertained the shipwrecked visitors in their homes.

The Princess Charlotte, operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, was returning to Vancouver, B. C., from Skagway, Alaska, when she plied upon little-known Vachnefaki reef.

AUTHOR AND HIS FORMER WIFE TRY SETTLE PROPERTY

DIVORCED WIFE DEMANDS THREE TIMES ALIMONY FORMERLY AGREED UPON

By Associated Press.
Salinas, Cal., Sept. 1.—Lawyers today continued the property settlement fight between Harry Leon Wilson, novelist, and Mrs. Helen Cooke Wilson, who yesterday obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from the author on charges of desertion and failure to provide.

The court ordered the briefs submitted for study before deciding on Mrs. Wilson's contention that her husband had concealed part of his wealth when they made a settlement some time ago by which she received $350 monthly alimony and certain securities. In her suit she demanded $5,000 monthly alimony, and a larger share in stocks, bonds, real estate holdings and royalty earnings, declaring Wilson's income was $100,000 a year.

The Junior High School Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to fill out their schedules and Prof. Allen states that it will be to the interest of those who wish preference to call early. Prof. Allen will be at the Junior High School building each of the above named days from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

NORTHWEST TEXAS CONFERENCE WILL BUILD NEW SCHOOL

By Associated Press.
Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 1.—The college locating committee of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference yesterday accepted the donation of Lee Blyins, Mayor, and associates, of 700 acres of land north of the city, part of which is to be used as a college site and the remainder as the conference official residence, but stipulated that before the definite location of the school here is recommended, a fund of $200,000 must be raised in Amarillo to finance the project.

The offer of Blyins was one of four made by various groups of business men.

The action followed several months of negotiations and is the outgrowth of the conference decision to abandon the Clarendon Methodist college.

League of Nations Council is Opened

By Associated Press.
Geneva, Sept. 1.—The forty-sixth session of the League of Nations council was opened today under the presidency of Enrique Villegas, Chilean Ambassador to Italy.

By Associated Press.
St. Charles, Ohio, Sept. 1.—A volley of bullets, coming from an ambush along the right of way early this morning, caused the death of A. J. McGee, fireman on a Baltimore and Ohio freight train hauling non-union coal from Benwood, West Virginia.

The attack occurred near Lafayette. The caboose was fired on as well as the engine.

A second freight train, running about 30 minutes behind the first, also was sniped at. About 25 shots were fired into the two trains, from a 30-30 army rifle.

When authorities arrived they found three empty shells in a mine car at the Meador Coal Mine. A guard was immediately placed over the car and a call sent to New Martinsville, W. Va., for blood hounds.

The mine car was about sixty car lengths from the place where McGee was fired on.

Two men were seen on the railway tracks and pursued by deputy sheriff. One of the men, Mike Cordery, 22, Powhattan, was shot through the leg. He was accompanied by his brother, George, but trainmen said the two were riding on the first train and did not believe them connected with the shooting.

NO OFFICIAL WORD FROM ST. RAPHAEL BEARING PRINCESS

VISIBILITY LOW AND PLANE MAY HAVE PASSED INLAND FROM ATLANTIC

By Associated Press.
The British monoplane, St. Raphael, and its flying Princess this afternoon were fast dropping into the list of missing ocean flyers.

No word had come from it since a British report last night that it was well on from the Atlantic coast on its westward flight.

Wireless and lighthouse stations on the Canadian Atlantic coast and the St. Lawrence kept special watch last night and all day today without finding a trace of the missing plane.

By Associated Press.
St. John's, N. F., Sept. 1.—Noon today, near the end of the time limit for the St. Raphael and its flying Princess to sight American land on the flight to Ottawa, passed with no word.

At the earliest the monoplane was expected around four this morning.

It could have been delayed many hours beyond that time by head winds which it is known blew over much of the North Atlantic course yesterday.

Visibility was such that the plane might have passed inland without being sighted, especially if off its course.

Dawn Brought No Sight Big Plane

By Associated Press.
St. John's, N. F., Sept. 1.—Dawn on the New Foundland coast brought no sight or word of the plane St. Raphael in which Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and her two escorts were winging their way across the North Atlantic.

A light east wind was blowing, the weather was dull and overcast and visibility was low.

Lighthouse keepers who, acting on government orders, had kept a ceaseless vigil throughout the night, renewed their efforts as the monoplane approached when it might have been sighted as it raced toward the mainland.

The chain of Federal wireless stations which had been manned especially for the occasion, reported that no word from the plane had been picked up, but this in itself was not regarded as unusual since the big Fokker was on a course not frequented by trans-Atlantic steamships.

Unofficial Report of Sighting of Plane

By Associated Press.
London, Sept. 1.—Inquiry at the air ministry at 11 a. m. London time (6 a. m. Eastern daylight time), brought the statement that nothing had been heard of the progress of the monoplane, St. Raphael since around midnight, (7 p. m. Eastern daylight time), when an unofficial message, believed from some steamer, reported the plane going strong.

The position was not stated.

The official added that they hoped to have some news pretty soon.

Neither Lloyd's nor the Marconi Wireless Company had acknowledged the picking up by any ship of such a message as told of by the Air Ministry.

Plane Not Sighted.

By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 1.—The Independent Wireless Company reported today that it had received a wireless message from the Canadian liner, Mauretania, at 5 a. m., stating that she had not sighted the monoplane St. Raphael.

Not Believed St. Raphael.

By Associated Press.
Ottawa, Sept. 1.—A gray monoplane flying in a northwesterly direction reported passing over St. Malo, Quebec, at 11:05 a. m. today gave rise to the hope that it might have been the St. Raphael, but officials of the air board stated that they did not believe the trans-Atlantic plane could have been seen so far south.

Plane Not St. Raphael.

By Associated Press.
Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 1.—Hope that a gray monoplane sighted over St. Malo this afternoon might have been the trans-Atlantic flier, St. Raphael, was dissipated later when it was ascertained that the plane belonged to a Captain Sanders, who flew from Lake St. Joseph, Quebec.

Levine May Hop Off For America Friday

UNCONFIRMED STORY SAYS AMERICAN SAFE NEAR BRAZILIAN CITY

REPORT SAYS REDFERN LANDED NEAR ALEMQUER ON AMAZON RIVER

By Associated Press.
Para, Brazil, Sept. 1.—The report that Paul Redfern's plane fell at Alemquer, Brazil, has been declared groundless by later advices.

The general of Para has telegraphed the authorities in the interior to continue the search.

By Associated Press.
Rio Janeiro, Sept. 1.—The Central office of the National Telegraph has no news of the discovery of Paul Redfern.

By Associated Press.
Para, Brazil, Sept. 1.—An unconfirmed report has been received here that Paul Redfern landed in the vicinity of Alemquer, Brazil. This unconfirmed report says that Redfern fell at Alemquer.

Alemquer lies on the Amazon river in the State of Para, 60 miles west-southwest of Montalegre. Alemquer is some 200 miles southwest of the Amazonian island, Gurupa, where it was expected that Redfern would drop a flare to indicate which direction he was taking. Gurupa is in the northernmost part of the Amazon.

The population of Alemquer is about 12,191. It is situated on an arm of the Amazon river and is reached by boat lines but there is no railroad.

COTTON SOARS ON PRIVATE ESTIMATE OF SHORT YIELD

By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 1.—New private crop estimates indicating a yield of less than 13,000,000 bales and reports of improved spot demand in the Southwest, where desirable grades were said to be scarce, resulted in an advance of $3.75 a bale in the cotton market today.

December positions sold at 23.25 cents per pound, as compared with Tuesday's close of 22.30 cents, on renewed general buying prompted by these factors and a sharp upward movement in the Liverpool market.

Many traders who sold out on the second decline were reported to be reinstating their lines.

CONTINGENT FEE UNDER FIRE FROM AMERICAN BAR ASSN.

By Associated Press.
Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 1.—The contingent fee was under fire at the American Bar Association convention today.

The executive committee had before it for action a resolution introduced by Charles H. Tuttle, United States attorney for the Southern District of New York, which asked for revision of the existing law on the subject.

The resolution asked that the committee on commercial ethics be requested to review the present canon on contingent fees "in the light of the abuse referred to."

MANY PERISH IN FLOODS IN POLAND; MUCH DAMAGE DONE

By Associated Press.
Warsaw, Poland, Sept. 1.—The extent of the flood disaster in Southern Poland, where the rivers are out of their banks after persistent rains culminating in a cloudburst, is growing hourly. It is indicated by reports reaching the capital.

Thirty-four persons are said to have perished in Kosov county alone.

The city of Boryslav is inundated. Several buildings have collapsed and the great oil refineries there are imperiled.

Officers Expected Identify Suspects

By Associated Press.
Ballinger, Texas, Sept. 1.—Officers from several Texas and Oklahoma towns are expected here today to identify three men arrested here as robber suspects. Two automobiles were seized by arresting officers.

to accept a $110,000 insurance policy to protect their contract with him.

Levine told the Associated Press that if the fate of the St. Raphael was still unknown late tonight he and Hinchcliffe would go to Cranwell and prepare to hop off for the United States tomorrow.

NOW THEY WANT TO GO TO SCHOOL

We are all wrong concerning the attitude of the modern day youth toward the closing of the vacation
period and the re-opening of school.

At least it is the opinion of a prominent Corsicana educator that we have been misinformed and we have no reason to doubt the findings of this gentleman for he is in a better position to get the viewpoint of those who attend the public schools in Corsicana than we are.

"Every newspaper in the country will soon be printing cartoons
and editorials depicting the sadness of youth as the date for school to resume activities draws near,"
the educator told the editor. "You may not believe it but this idea is as far out of date as is the horse and buggy. The majority of the boys and girls in Corsicana are anxious for school to start. Already a large number of students have called at the high school to make their programs for the coming session and our schools do not open until September 12. You editors will have to revise your ideas concerning the modern day youth and school. You are getting behind the times along this line,"
Mr. Prominent Educator informed us with a twinkle in his eye.

Well—maybe he is right—and we have been depending too much on remembrances of times gone
by. It is lots more fun to go to school now than in the past. Educational facilities have made some wonderful improvements since our school days. A wider variety of study is offered as well as many other school activities to hold the interest of the student. Also look at our modern, conveniently equipped and attractive school buildings. Honest, every time we pass
one of these new school buildings today it makes us want to go to school. And the faculty members—especially the young lady members—young and pretty—you can hardly designate them from those attending school. An added attraction, we would say.

Yes, as we stop to consider this matter of schools in general with calm and cool deliberation, we suppose we will have to agree with Mr. Prominent Educator. School is indeed much more attractive than it was when we were forced to go and we can't blame the modern day youth from changing their attitude toward school.

THRIFT MEANS LIVING WELL

The people of the United States should resent the oft heard statement that they are less thrifty than other national peoples, the French for example. They should resent it because it is an obvious untruth.

If America were not a thrifty
country, in fact first in thrift,
would the lives of half its population be insured in the amount of $64,000,000,000. In this kind of thrift and foresight this country has no equal. There was thrift behind every dollar of the millions paid in life insurance premiums in the last year and behind every dollar of the $1,150,000,000 paid to life insurance beneficiaries during the same period.

With half the population insured it means that not only husbands and fathers carry insurance on their lives for the protection of their loved ones. The American policy holder includes unmarried
men and women and college men and women. These latter have only one reason for insuring their lives, and that is thrift. The husband and the parent have the additional reason for providing for their wives and children in the emergency of their own death. Not every American is saving for the future, but all

Americans have the inherent desire to save and will when feasible.

True, the French and Belgian peasant can get more out of an acre of land than the average American gardener, but necessity is the mother of invention and the scarcity of land makes agricultural thrift a necessity in Europe. The United States feels a need for more farmers than for more farm land.
It is also true that the average American is sufficiently thrifty to get more of the necessities and luxuries of life than any of his European or Asiatic brothers.

National thrift explains the high living standards and high per capita wealth in the United States.

"INDECENT" BOOKS

A delegation of Florida citizens
has presented to Governor Martin
a list of certain "indecent" books
found in the libraries of two state colleges. The list includes works of Freud, H. G. Wells and George Bernard Shaw.

Except in extreme cases, indecency in literature is not an inherent quality but a question of interpretation. It is largely an individual problem. The reader is likely to look upon the life which good literature attempts to represent in much the same way that he sees the life about him, finding and emphasizing the same qualities in both. What seems yellow to one jaundiced eye may acquire all the hues of the rainbow in the sight of others. Thus competent censorship requires a type of learning and wisdom hardly to be expected of volunteer committees
and the holders of political office.

The Florida delegation—although probably not aware of the fact—faced a problem as difficult as that confronting Solomon when he was asked to choose between a flower that was real and one that was false. And Solomon had a bee to help him.

LABLED CITIES

There is nothing fantastic about the suggestion that comes from the federal department of commerce that those cities aspiring to a place in the rapidly growing field
of commercial aviation shall label themselves so they can be recognized from the air. Names promi-nently displayed and arrows indicating the approach to the landing fields are all within the possibilities of the immediate future,
and the method and style of marking are a subject for practical ingeniety.

It might not be out of place to make similar provisions for the benefit of motor tourists. Many postoffices are already suitably labeled, but it would help if all towns and cities would suitably identify themselves by signs. The French, in their Morocco protectorate, have recognized this need,
and their location and distance
signs are painted on white fences
or walls and are thus made visible for miles. They cannot be very ornamental, but are certainly less offensive than the advertising boards that everywhere dis-

KNOW TEXAS

The state of Texas has a very small bonded indebtedness and all of it is owned and held by the permanent funds of the public schools and state institutions. At the close of the last fiscal year the total of this debt was $4,002,200.

There were 69,738 marriages performed in Texas in 1925 as against 71,992 in 1924, showing a decrease of 2,254. Figures for 1926 will not be compiled until December 1, 1927.

Counties in which rice is the leading crop are: Brazoria, Chambers, Colorado, Fort Bend, Galveston, Harris, Jackson, Jefferson, Liberty, Matagorda, Orange, Walter and Wharton.

Rose growing has reached such proportions in East Texas that the rose bush is now considered a farm crop in some sections. Smith county is the leading county in this industry.

Young students in this rapid age
must bear in mind that at the time
they were written Jules Verne's tales were considered about as tall
as the average reader could stomach.

An authority says long life may be attained through auto suggestion. The suggestion is not to get into the way of one.

Hot weather and a bad summer
cold is a mixture that will make almost any man lose at least a part of his religion.

If aviators continue to get lost
a larger navy would not be such a bad idea.

REDUCING INSECT DAMAGE FOR 1928 BY WORK IN 1927

Special to the Sun.
College Station, Texas, Aug. 31.—
During the past several seasons, so far as weather conditions have allowed, the farmer of many parts of the Coastal area of Texas have applied themselves to fall clean-up measures, advises R. R. Reppert, Entomologist, Extension Service,
Texas A. & M. College. The main object of this has been to reduce damage to cotton the following season by various insect pests, especially the boll weevil.

The practice is based upon certain facts connected with the insect. Infestation in the spring arises from the numbers of the weevil that successfully pass the winter hiden
away in various protected places. The weevils seek these places about the time of the first killing frost and because they are dormant during the winter months do not require food.

Previous to the first killing frost,
however, being active, they must feed continuously. Green cotton furnishes their only food and where this is not available up to the time of frost the insect either starves or is forced into its winter quarters in such a weakened condition as to be unable to survive until spring
in any considerable numbers.

Farmers in the section mentioned have learned to apply this principle and as soon as cotton is gathered in the fall their concern is to destroy the growth so as to leave no food for the pest. It has been fairly well demonstrated in that section that where this cleanup can be applied generally over a wide area that the community suffers a minimum of damage by the weevil the following season.

It will be well for the farmers
throughout the weevil infested area
of Texas to consider the same means of control and as soon as the cotton is gathered to destroy the cotton growth. Agricultural advisors do not wish to be understood as advising the burning of cotton stalks on the field, although from certain standpoints this may appear the only solution of the grower's problems. From the standpoint of weevil control it is sufficient merely to destroy the growth; from this standpoint alone also it would perhaps be the best to plow under the green cotton stalks deeply.

However, throughout a great part of our cotton growing area another difficulty arises; namely, the attacks of the disease, cotton root
rot. Green cotton stalks plowed under retain life for a considerable period and hence furnish a medium
upon which the root rot is a factor in production, therefore, it will be advisable for the farmers to uproot the stalks, thus exposing them to complete drying. After they have become completely dried and life
is extinct they may be plowed under.

While the foregoing paragraphs apply to the control of the boll weevil by clean-up measures the same method can be effectively applied against some other cotton pests as well as many insects affecting other crops. In general, and where no disadvantages attach from other considerations, it is always a good practice from the standpoint of insect control to dispose of crop residues in some manner, preferably by turning under as soon as the crop has been gathered.

In many sections the cotton crop has been almost gathered and in some sections picking is complete. Communities can follow no better farming practice at this time than to organize and systematically carry out clean-up measures so as to leave no growing cotton at the time frosts are to be expected.

AL SMITH DOOMED TO DEFEAT WOMEN STATE IN MEETING

By Associated Press.
Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 31.— Defeat of Al Smith "from the inside of the Democratic party" was predicted from the floor at the National Women's Christian Temperance Union's annual convention
today following reading of a telegram from the National Women's Democratic Law Enforcement League endorsing the Union's stand in demanding "bone dry" platforms and candidates in the next presidential elections.

The telegram, signed by Mrs.
Jessie W. Nicholson, League
president, and pledging co-operation toward obtaining "the desired results" had scarcely been read when Mrs. Leigh Colvin, president of the New York W. C. T. U., leaped to her feet with the exclamation
that "this means the defeat of Al Smith from the inside of the Democratic party."

25c COTTON

Dear Farmers & Fuddlers

Don't sell your cotton for less than 25c per pound. That is what it is worth and what you must get for it. That's the cat's whiskers, the pussy's ankle, the patent medicine that balm the burnt hide of the cotton farmer.
25c is the price, the right price and you must never sell for less so long as other stuff maintains present prices.

I don't care how high the ladies get their dresses, if the price of cotton stays in line.

25c cotton; 25c meat; 15c ducking. That lines up satisfactorily. With 25c cotton you can pull yourselves out of the hole of peonage that you have been wallowing in the past few years, and become independent again.

You can open your dinner with bouillon and finish the meal with cake and cream. If the banker, or baker, or candlestick maker advises you to take less for your cotton, tell them to go to heaven and play with the angels.

Gather the crop as fast as you can and sell slow; so slow that nothing less than 25c per pound will get your cotton.

This is not advice. It is information and I want you to live up to it.

Yours truly,

NEW USES FOR COTTON SEED ARE SOUGHT BY CRUSHERS

FARMERS OF SOUTH EXPECTED TO REAP BENEFIT OF RESEARCH WORK

By Associated Press.

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 1.—The farmers of the South—and, therefore, of course, the whole South—may reap much benefit from the recently announced intention of the Cotton Seed Crushers' Association to undertake a careful program of basic research in an effort to develop new uses for cotton seed, says the Charleston, S. C., Post of August 16th. There are probably many people who are still unaware of the fact that cotton seed is already used for a tremendous variety of products and is one of the nation's most valuable contributions to the materials of modern commercial chemistry and there are probably still more people who are aware of or have forgotten the fact that this development of uses for cotton seed is a very recent thing and that it was not so long ago that State legislators thought it necessary to pass laws prohibiting farmers from chattering up country research by dumping cotton seed into them, so absolutely worthless did the farmers of the South regard the seed at that time.

While the cotton seed industry of this country has been rapidly developed and on a large scale, some European countries have shown an even greater interest in the product, especially in certain branches of its manufacture, and not a few of the developments that have expanded the industry have been due to the ingenuity of German, Scandinavian and other European scientists. In the single item of feeding cotton seed meal to livestock, the Europeans were successful in developing safe and profitable methods on a large scale considerably before the Americans and cotton seed meal was being freely fed in Europe at a time when most American farmers were still afraid to give it to their cattle in any considerable quantity. However, the Americans have, of course, worked out a great number of the really tremendous list of products in which cotton seed in some form is used. They are so many and so diverse that a list of them would astonish the average person.

The cotton seed crushers are not, however, satisfied. They want more outlets for the product and they have placed a noted chemist in charge of investigations having as their end the discovery of new uses for the seed. It is the sort of thing that has been done in many of the industries of the North and West, with great success and too little by the business men of the South. There is a little room to doubt that systematic scientific research will be rewarded by the finding of important and valuable new uses for this by-product of the cotton crop that farmers used to throw away and that will mean the probability of better prices for the seed in the manufacturing market and better prices accordingly to the cotton farmer.

SCHEDULE CLASSES FOR HIGH SCHOOL IS GIVEN FOR STUDENTS

PROGRAM AND REGISTRATION MUST BE TAKEN CARE OF BEFORE OPENING

School will begin Monday, Sept. 12, 1927. The schedule of classes for the high school is published herewith in the Daily Sun. The other preliminaries incident to the opening of school have been completed. It is our desire to make all the programs before the opening day. The first two days of the school term will not be used for registration as has formerly been done. On Monday, Sept. 12, the students will report to the classes according to their schedules. The teachers will issue books and make assignments at these first recitations.

Quite a number of students complain that they cannot get the arrangement desired because the classes have already been filled when they arrive. Any student desiring to have his program made can do so by coming to the high school after today. We are sure the parents and children will appreciate this arrangement and gladly co-operate in bringing about this saving of time to the children.

Students who have not previously attended the Corsicana schools must be classified by the principal. This must be done before the opening day. Students who are asking admission from an unaffiliated school are to take examinations if they are to want credit for all work they have covered. Exceptions may be made in the case of eighth and ninth grade students who present report cards that show an average of B plus or better. The schedule of examinations for new students and for those who want classification higher than at the close of last session is as follows:

Thursday, Sept. 8, 8:00 a. m. Math.
Thursday, Sept. 8, 10:00 a. m. Science.
Thursday, Sept. 8, 1:00 p. m. History.
Friday, Sept. 9, 8:00 a. m. English.
Friday, Sept. 9, 10:00 a. m. Foreign Language.
Friday, Sept. 9, 1:00 p. m. Vocational.

WILL DRILL DEEPER IN DISCOVERY WELL CEDAR CREEK AREA

Special to the Sun.
Mexia, Texas, Sept. 1.—With standard rigging nearly complete deeper sands in the Reiter-Lewis and Moutray Oil Company Ward No. 1, discovery well at Cedar Creek will be tested in a few days and the outcome is anxiously awaited by holders of working interest in the new field.

The standard bit will cut further into the sand at the rate of one foot a day and then allow the oil flow to continue while the temperature is tested. The temperature of the oil flow from the 3 feet of oil sand is 82 degrees, very low, indicating absence of salt water.

Seven locations have been made and five derricks are up. Rigs are being placed on all derricks and actual drilling of other tests will be under way in a few days.

Three suits involving titles to royalties or working interests have been filed and another is threatened on a part of the territory in the play. This, however, is not expected to seriously hinder operations.

Several of the companies during the week sought to form an agreement to go slow in drilling, pending possible sale of crude oil prices but one of the largest property holding concerns would not enter the agreement and drilling is going ahead. Those who have derricks up are:

Reiter & Lewis and Moutray Oil Company, Ward No. 1, producing about 175 barrels of oil and 8,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, and Ward No. 2, rigging up.

Why Not and Forty-Four Oil Companies, E. W. Lewis No. 1, rigging up. This concern is controlled by Mrs. J. K. Hughes and a number of women oil investors.

Transcontinental Oil Company, E. W. Lewis No. 1, rigging up.

Rycade Oil Company of Houston, Ward No. 1, rigging up.

The Prairie Pipe Line Company, operated here by the Pure Oil Pipe Line Company, has laid a six inch pipe line from Nigger Creek. J. K. Hughes Developing Company and the Transcontinental have laid small water and fuel lines from Nigger Creek, which is one and one-half miles away.

Since, Crawford and Reynolds, Transcontinental, J. K. Hughes, and others have made locations and are awaiting developments.

Go To Oklahoma.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Allison and son, Fred M., Jr., left Wednesday via automobile for the Greater Seminole area in Oklahoma where the Fred M. Allison Drilling Company, of which Mr. Allison is president, is drilling a number of wells for the Barnsdall Oil Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Allison and son have just recently returned from an automobile tour of South and Southwest Texas and Old Mexico.

THE MONTH IN THE SKIES

September: Jupiter

By ROBERT H. BAKER

(Professor of Astronomy, University of Illinois.)

By Associated Press.
Urbana, Ill., Sept. 1.—Jupiter, largest of the planets, will be a conspicuous object during September, rising at nightfall above the eastern horizon. It appears as a brilliant yellow star, so much brighter than any of the real stars that it is easy to find. Only a small telescope is required to show the banded disk of this great planet and its four brightest moons, three of which are larger than our own moon. Jupiter has nine satellites revolving around it. Five of them may be viewed only through powerful telescopes.

Buffalo: A one man delegation is conducting an intensive drive at the convention of the American Bar Association to bring the 1928 convention to Seattle, Washington. He is Loren Grinstead and is making his lone fight against a strong delegation from Memphis, Tenn.

Jupiter is now 400 million miles away. Having a diameter of 88,000 miles, it outweighs and outweights all the rest of the planets put together. Like the other planets it shines entirely by reflected sunlight. The surface which we see through the telescope is gas, spun out into bright and dark cloud-bands by the planet's rotation. What lies underneath the cloudy covering no one knows.

Other interesting sights are displayed in the eastern sky in the early evening during September. Not far above Jupiter we have the familiar square of Pegasus tipped on one corner. If this square is imagined to be the bowl of a dipper, the handle is found extending northward.

The middle of the handle, with the stars around it, forms the constellation Andromeda, the chained princess who, according to mythology, was left on a rock to be devoured by a sea monster. The star which marks the end of the handle of this dipper is the brightest star in Perseus, the hero of the same story. Perseus comes flying into the scene carrying in one hand the head of the demon Medusa which he points towards the monster, at once turning it to stone.

Perseus looks not at all like a hero, but like a starry arrow pointing upward along the Milky Way. Medusa's head is marked by the "Devil's Star," Alkaid, the star that winks. At regular intervals of 69 hours this famous star is reduced to one-third its usual brightness. The reason is now known, namely that a fainter companion revolves around the brighter star and partially eclipses it periodically.

The Great Nebula, Andromeda, is visible to the unaided eye on a clear moonless night as a small, faint, foggy patch. Actually it is a huge spiral structure of millions of stars. With the aid of the accompanying picture, a keen eye should be able to detect it in the sky.

The Andromeda Nebula is the most distant object which is possible to see without the aid of a telescope. It is far beyond the Milky Way, so remote in fact that its light required 950,000 years to reach us, traveling all that time at the rate of 186,000 miles a second.

WEALTHY HARRISON COUNTY FARMER FACE FLOGGING CHARGES

By Associated Press.
Tyler, Texas, Sept. 1.—Selection of a jury to try Cain Anderson, Harrison county farmer, on charges in connection with alleged flogging of tenants on his farm began in district court here late today after Judge Warren had overruled a defense motion for continuance. The defense had asked that the case be put over the next term of court on the ground of absence of three important witnesses.

By Associated Press.
Tyler, Texas, Sept. 1.—With preliminaries occupying the morning session of Smith county district court, the case of Cain Anderson, wealthy Harrison county planter, charged with violating the State anti-mask law, got away to a show trial here today.

The venire of 75 was administered the oath and two deferment motions were overruled by Judge J. P. Warren. These motions attacked jurisdiction of the court and sought to quash the indictment.

Defense counsel then reported that two important witnesses, Renee Beebe and John Noble, were out in the court room and Judge Warren recessed court until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The indictment against Anderson was returned in Harrison county by a grand jury on June 8 of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Richardson and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. A. Stroud, tenants on Anderson's farm near Marshall.

By Associated Press.
Tyler, Texas, Sept. 1.—A pool of blood was found by attorneys for both the state and defense in the case of Cain Anderson, wealthy Harrison county farmer and defendant, charged with flogging, was called in district court here today.

Anderson was indicted in Harrison county on 11 counts under the anti-mask law enacted by the Texas Legislature two years ago in connection with the alleged flogging of J. R. Richardson, 50; his wife, 45; and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. A. Stroud, 23, tenants on the Anderson farm near Marshall on June 8. The trial was brought here on change of venue.

"I am not guilty and at the proper time will produce a pool of blood and a right alibi," Anderson said when he arrived here early today.

The case against DeWitt Osborn, tenant farmer, indicted with Anderson, will be tried later at Gilmer, Upshur county.

Indictments in Two Classes.
The indictments fall into two classes. Briefly they charge approaching a house while masked and assault upon a person while masked. Penalties for the first offense are two to ten years in the penitentiary and for the second, five to 50 years imprisonment.

Counsel for both sides expressed the opinion that a jury could be obtained the 75 veniremen summoned and that the case might be in the hands of the jury by Saturday night.

Anderson's counsel is R. S. Young, Longview, and Nat Gentry, Sr., Nat Gentry, Jr., and J. Y. Gray of Tyler. Prosecution attorneys are John E. Taylor, district attorney of Harrison county, M. G. Radlock, Marshall, Tarrant county, Tyler, Walter R. Rouse, district attorney of Smith, Upshur and Wynn counties, and C. G. Wynn, Calhoun county, assistant attorney general of Texas.

Judge J. R. Warren will preside at the trial.

The busiest day in long distance air flights drew to a close today with eight ocean crossing planes in the air, waiting for a chance to go up, or reported down.

The British plane, St. Raphael, with Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim as passenger and Captain Hamilton and Colonel Minchin piloting, was overdue over Canada on its flight from Upavon, England, to Ottawa, Canada.

The Sir John Carling, a monoplane piloted by Captain Terry Tully and Lieut. James Medcalf, left London, Ont., for London, England, with a stop scheduled at Harbor Grace, New Foundland, to refuel.

The Royal Windsor, a monoplane of the same type as the Sir John Carling, took off at Windsor, Ont., a few hours behind the other Canadian plane, bound for Windsor, England.

Breck and Schlee, flying around the world, waited at Constantinople for Turkish authority to continue with Lybia, Syria, the immediate objective.

The New York to Rome plane, Old Glory, rested at Roosevelt Field, Long Island, for the wind to change and rain to cease.

The Bremen, Junkers plane, waited at Dessau, Germany, for better weather and was ready to start another effort to reach the United States.

Charles A. Levine, stood by the Columbia in London, ready to attempt to break a record for distance in some direction, depending on the fate of the St. Raphael. A report from Para, Brazil, that Paul Redfern, flying from Buenos Aires, to Rio de Janeiro, had fallen near Albuquerque, on the Amazon, lacked confirmation.

By Associated Press.
Windsor, Ont., Sept. 1.—The monoplane Royal Windsor, bearing Phil Wood and C. A. (Mike) Schiller, hopped off from Walkerville field at 9:18 a. m. Eastern Standard time today on a non-stop flight with Windsor, England, as its objective.

A wreath bearing the words "Sungester-Coll" was waved in the plane by the fliers. They plan to drop it into the ocean as a memorial to the French fliers who attempted a westward flight across the Atlantic. No definite plan for the dumping of the wreath has been set.

"Don't forget me Helen" was written on the plane with chalk by Mrs. Wood shortly before her husband, who will serve as pilot, was chandered to his plane, Mike Schiller, of South Sea, Atlantic, Schiller's, Rogers, prompted.

FLIGHT UNDER WAY FROM LONDON, ONT., TO LONDON, ENGLAND

By Associated Press.
London, Ont., Sept. 1.—Captain Terry Tully and Lieutenant James Medcalf took off at 5:34 o'clock this morning in the monoplane Sir John Carling for their attempted flight from London, Ont., to London, England.

Perfect weather attended the take off. The machine made a beautiful start, climbing the ground about a half mile down the runway and mounting rapidly to an altitude of 1,500 feet, when it headed eastward. Tully is piloting the plane with Medcalf as navigator.

Royal Windsor Passes Oshawa.
By Associated Press.
Oshawa, Ont., Sept. 1.—The plane Royal Windsor flying eastward passed along Oshawa's lake front at 1:15 p. m. Eastern day light time.

Plane Sighted at Toronto.
By Associated Press.
Toronto, Ont., Sept. 1.—A monoplane believed to be the Sir John Carling, flying from London, Ont., to London, England, passed over this city, 130 miles east of the starting point at 7:45 o'clock this morning, Eastern daylight time.

Plane Sighted Over Vermont.
By Associated Press.
Albany, Vermont, Sept. 1.—The Canadian aviators in the trans-Atlantic plane, Sir John Carling, passed over this village at 10:15 a. m. Eastern Standard time. The plane was flying low and very fast, headed directly east. It was also sighted over Rouses Point, N. Y.

Mike Is Threatened.
Sibiu, Rumania, (Cable)—The boy king of Rumania, who is popularly known as "Micky" is to be feared like any ordinary American boy. A threat by his mother of "a good smack" failed to make him desist from pulling his dog's tail, but an added threat of being sent to bed without supper worked.

The fliers, with a toy teddy bear as a flight mascot.

The propeller of the plane, which bears the number C-1110, was spun by Ed Attridge, Wright motor expert, who performed the same service for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and the party of Commander Richard I. Byrd, when they hopped off on their trans-Atlantic flight.

Several thousand persons, who lined the field, cheered as the plane made a beautiful take off.

Solomon's Wise Choice

1 Kings 3: 4-15.

1. Kings 3: 4. And the king went to Gibeon to sacrifice there; for that was the great high place: a thousand burnt-offerings did Solomon offer upon that altar.

5. In Gibeon Jehovah appeared to Solomon in a dream by night; and God said, Ask what I shall give thee.

6. And Solomon said, Thou hast showed unto thy servant David my father great lovingkindness, according as he walked before thee in truth, and in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with thee; and thou hast kept for his child a great lovingkindness, that thou has given him a son to sit on his throne, as it is this day.

7. And now, O Jehovah my God, thou hast made thy servant king instead of David my father; and I am but a little child: I know not how to go out or come in.

8. And thy servant is in the midst of thy people which thou hast chosen, a great people, that cannot be numbered nor counted for multitude.

9. Give thy servant therefore an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between good and evil; for who is able to judge this thy great people?

10. And the speech pleased the Lord, that Solomon had asked this thing.

11. And God said unto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thyself, nor life neither hast asked riches for thyself, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies, but hast asked for thyself understanding to discern justice:

12. Behold, I have done according to thy word: lo, I have given thee a wise and understanding heart; so that there hath been none like thee before thee, neither after thee shall any rise like unto thee.

13. And I have also given thee that which thou hast not asked, both riches and honor, so that there shall not be any among the kings like unto thee, all thy days.

14. And if thou wilt walk in my ways, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as thy father David did walk, then I will lengthen thy days.

15. And Solomon awoke; and behold it was a dream, and he came to Jerusalem, and stood before the ark of the covenant of Jehovah, and offered up burnt-offerings, and offered peace-offerings, and made a feast to all his servants.

Golden Text.—Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.—Prov. 13.

(Text is from the American Standard Edition of the Revised Bible copyright, 1901, by Thomas Nelson & Sons, and used by permission.)

The man who wrote the book of Kings as we have it in the Old Testament was a devout Jew; he was writing the history of his nation and he wanted those who read it to look at the very best which could be offered. He was writing probably four hundred years after the events which he recorded and was not to select without prejudice.

He was not only writing history, but a religious book intended to show the goodness and power of his God and that God was the special God of the Jews. He was probably looking back upon the wrecks of Jewish kings and of the kingdom and to him the reigns of David and Solomon were the glorious spots in that record.

A lecturer in Rome a few months ago told me that Nero was not such a bad king, that in fact he was a splendid king and that what we read in so called histories about Nero was not true. He insisted that the story about Nero fiddling while Rome burned was a story told by the enemies of the emperor. He closed his remarks about Nero by saying that Tacitus was the biggest liar who ever attempted to write history.

It is now ten years since the world war and we are just beginning to get an unbiased story of the great conflict. The real story will not be written until the generation which took part in the war has disappeared.

In writing a biography of King Solomon the best thing the historian could think about was a dream. This he used effectively. This dream, and the proverb which are credited to the king, make up about all the good we can find about him.

Solomon was probably twenty years old when he was made King of Israel. He was the son of Bathsheba, the woman David took from General Uriah after he had caused the death of her husband. He was the youngest son of the great king. Two of David's older sons had conspired against him in his old age and attempted to take the kingdom away from him. Absalom almost succeeded in this. He was killed by his father when he was killed by General Joab. Adonijah was conspiring with this same Joab and the high priest, when David, aided by Zadok, caused Solomon to be anointed and placed on the throne.

Soon after this event David died, but before he died he gave Solomon a bit of advice and got even with a few of his enemies. Joab had David in his power because of the written message the king sent him to kill Uriah. David was afraid of Joab but he punished that general after his own death. He told Solomon to take the first reasonable chance to kill Joab and also to do away with another of his enemies, a man who had laughed at David and reviled him. How Solomon accomplished the wishes of his father is told in detail. It is a bloody story of bloody times.

David not only left Solomon a consolidated kingdom but he left him great wealth. According to Oriental customs David was buried in great pomp and with him were buried enormous sums of gold and jewels. A thousand three hundred years afterward, according to Josephus, Hyrcanus, the high priest, when he was besieged by Antiochus, that was called the pious, opened one room of David's sepulchre and took out three thousand talents and gave them to Antiochus and thus raised the siege. After him many years Herod the king opened another room and took away a great deal of money and yet neither of them came to the coffin of the king himself.

Solomon, just a youth, was inaugurated king. His impulses were good and he was grounded in the faith. He felt that he was not qualified for the job and he dreamed that God appeared to him and told him to ask whatever he wished. In his dream he asked for wisdom to govern the great people. It seemed to the dreaming boy that God was pleased at his request and promised, not only wisdom, but wealth and power and peace.

Solomon remembered the dream, all Orientals believe in dreams and there were dream interpreters. Nowadays if we catch crystal gazers we put them out of the police first. Dreams are made out of things which our minds hold. The best dreams are those which we have while we are awake. I think the farthest back I can remember was a dream I had often as a little boy. In that dream I always saw big bear coming in at the front gate and for the life of me could not run or even scream. I have never seen a bear outside a circus or a zoo except in dreams.

Personally I think that Solomon made a mess out of his reign. His father left him the plans for the great temple, the measurements, the site, the cut stone and the timber, a horde of trained stonemasons and carpenters and several millions of cash money. Solomon built the temple, taking seven years to do the work and when he got through he owed Hiram, King of Tyre, so much money that he had to cede that neighbor a large number of square miles of his territory. Solomon laid taxes so heavily that the people groaned and this led to the revolt and the division of the kingdom after his death. He not only laid heavy taxes but unequal taxes for he exempted the tribe of Judah. Solomon had a woman complex and the biggest harem of those days of big harems. The Abyssinians claim to this day that their kings are of the direct line of Solomon.

God gives every youth of twenty the choice of which the wise writer says he gave to young Solomon. God says to each one at the beginning of useful life "Ask what I shall give thee." It would be interesting to record the answers most of us give to this offer. The old Rabbi tell of an angel who has charge of God's storehouse and to whom the wireless requests come from all the peoples of the earth. In that storehouse are shining jewels, faith, hope, love, patience, peace and joy. These are never refused to those who ask. In another room are great piles of shining armor. These are gifts of service, courage, zeal, watchfulness, prayer and understanding. These are also never refused the asker. In the third basement, dark and cobwebby, are piles of gold and wretched wreaths of fame and power. In that room is a great pile of unanswered prayers. The custodian is made to say that people are always asking for these things in the basement, wealth and power and ambition and that God does not care to answer such prayers.

I wish I could reach the young man and the young woman with this idea even if it were but in a dream. You have the invitation from God to ask what you will. I believe that if you ask for the great jewels of right life and service and unselfishness He will give them you without reserve. And the beauty of it all is that riches and fame usually follow their own accord.—The Republic Syndicate.

FREEDOM CAME FOR
PROMINENT INDIANA
MAN WEDNESDAY

By Associated Press.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 31.—Warren T. McCray, former governor of Indiana, was released from the Federal penitentiary on parole today at 12:51, after serving three years and four months of a ten-year sentence for "use of the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud."

McCray was sentenced on April 30, 1924, while still governor of Indiana. He immediately resigned, left for Atlanta and began serving his term the next day. Release came today soon after Deputy Warden A. C. Adershoft received telephonic instructions from Washington.

With McCray as he left the penitentiary grounds were William P. Evans, his son-in-law, Indianapolis attorney, who resigned as Marion county prosecutor when charges were preferred against the former governor; John Mooman, an old friend, and member of the Indiana State Prison Commission; and Koltair Eggleston, local theatrical man, formerly of Indianapolis.

McCray planned to leave late today for Indiana. The former governor was smiling happily. He refused to discuss politics. He seemed to be in good spirits.

By Associated Press.

Washington Aug. 31.—Telegraphic instructions were sent to Warden Snook of the Atlanta penitentiary ordering the immediate release of former Governor Warren T. McCray of Indiana.

"I am coming back," former Governor Warren T. McCray of Indiana said when he entered the federal prison at Atlanta on May 1, 1924, to start a ten-year sentence imposed for use of the mails in furtherance of the scheme to defraud.

He asked the Indiana public to have faith in him, hoped for an opportunity to vindicate himself and to pay back every cent lost by friends and associates in his financial collapse, and declared that if he had an opportunity he would prove that he had no intent to defraud any one.

Known as a millionaire and an astute business man with no bad habits when he became governor of Indiana in 1921, McCray was caught in the deflation of farm land values which soon wiped out his fortune. On the witness stand in his trial he admitted signing names of other persons to notes, but disclaimed any intent of forgery or wrongdoing. At one time he was one of Indiana's largest landholders.

Rose From Grocery Clerk. From grocery clerk to wealth and recognition as one of the mid-west's great breeders of cattle breeders, McCray came shortly after the end of the war to look yearningly at the Indiana executive chair. Beaten by Paul P. Goodrich for the republican nomination in 1916, he won in 1920.

Hardly was he acquainted with his duties when rumors of his financial condition gained circulation, but his real status was not learned until August, 1923, when he quit the presidency of the Kentland, Ind., Discount and Deposit Bank.

Political and personal friends formed a "pool" to pay back $55,000 he had borrowed from the Kentland bank and a similar amount borrowed from the state board of agriculture.

Meeting with the creditors here he insisted that he had assets of $2,223,000 and listed liabilities of $2,560,000. A Marion county (Indiana) grand jury indicted him, however, on charges of forgery, embezzlement and larceny. A jury disagreed and after he was tried in federal court the county writ was dismissed.

Refused to Resign. McCray refused to listen to pleas that he resign as governor, with holding that action until the day he was found guilty in federal court, on April 24, 1924. He was sentenced to ten years in prison and fined $10,000.

His thousands of acres of farm land over the country are gone to satisfy his creditors. Scattered also is the herd of more than 600 Hereford cattle, once called the finest in the country. Only his family home at Kentland, and—it is understood—a summer home in Michigan are left to him.

McCray was 62 in 1927. His physical condition he reported poor soon after his confinement, but he was widely respected by prison officials and inmates. He edited the prison newspaper and taught a Sunday class.

The Sick and Convalescent. J. R. Bristow had an operation performed on his right foot at the Navarro County Hospital Tuesday.

BOY WAS SICK

Texas Tells How He Got Acquainted With the Good Work of Black-Draught as a Laxative.

Glensford, Texas.—"I had a sick spell when just fifteen years old," says Mr. George W. Maness, R.F.D. 2, this place. "Anyone who has had chills, like I had, is apt to remember them. I was a sick boy—just lay around the home, weak. My skin was yellow and I could hardly stand up. I had hard chills.

"My father gave me quinine. Someone told him to give me Black-Draught with it. He brought some home, and they fixed it up like a tea. It wasn't very good, but I was so sick I would take anything.

"After a few days, I began to feel better. I was hungry and could eat. I kept on taking the tea for awhile, and I got well. I haven't had chills since then, but I have taken a lot of Black-Draught since that time. It is a family medicine with me."

Where assistance is needed in the way of a laxative or cathartic, Thedford's Black-Draught should be taken, as often as necessary, to open the bowels and put them in a healthy and normal state of activity.

The public will be invited to attend the contest and the place will be announced later.

JUSTICE SURE AND SWIFT IN EARLY DAYS OF COURT HELD AT HOUSTON RECORD SHOWS

By Associated Press.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 1.—Browsed among the records of the district court here have just unearthed the minutes of the first court held in Houston in which a man convicted of murder was sentenced on Wednesday to be hanged. The following Wednesday, a woman was convicted of forgery and also was sentenced to be hanged by the neck until she is dead and may the Lord have mercy on her soul, and a man was ordered to restore $295 to a complainant and in addition to be lashed 33 times on his bare back and be branded on the right hand with the letter "F," which apparently was to denote that he was a thief.

The first session of court was held on March 20, 1837, in the room when Texas was a republic. Congress had not yet passed criminal laws or set up a penal code, but under provisions by which the court was created, the English common law was adhered to in the interim. Benjamin C. Franklin was district judge, John W. Moore was sheriff and John Holman was clerk. The jail was a one room log building with its only entrance through a trap door in the roof and the court house was a two room log cabin. The jail, a grand jury report some time later said, was an inhuman contrivance, provided no privacy for women inmates and might become a source of pestilence because of its lack of sanitary appliances.

The grand jury directed its attention to the situation surrounding free negroes who "exert a mischievous influence over our slaves." "Texas," the grand jury report added, "is a slave-holding country and will, the grand jurors trust, ever remain such. A family of free negroes, the report added, commonly presents the impersonations of idleness, ignorance and dishonesty. Such a family, unless strictly and perpetually watched and kept at a distance, will render the slaves of the plantations near which they are situated, dissatisfied, disobedient, restless and corrupt. The grand jurors are aware that they have not alluded to several very important points which suggest themselves in this consideration of the subject. It is not deemed necessary to do so in this community."

The woman who was sentenced to be hanged for forgery was Pamela Mann, according to the record. She was found guilty on May 24, 1839. The jury recommended leniency but Judge James W. Robertson, who tried that particular term of court, grimly sentenced her to be hanged the following June 27 between 12 and 2 o'clock and ordered the sheriff to carry out the sentence.

Names of Sam Houston, president of the republic; Ben R. Milam, a revolutionary period figure, and Stephen F. Austin, colonier, dot the records. Mostly they were suits over lands and called into question title to thousands of acres. Some of the suits were aftermath of colonization contracts given by the Mex-

By Associated Press. —Barcelly, British India, Sept. 1. —Thirteen persons were killed and 96 injured in a communal riot during a Hindu festival here last night. A Hindu procession with bands, passing before a Moham-

AROUND ONE HUNDRED CARS
EXPECTED TO TAKE PART IN MOTORCADE

Considerable interest is being manifested in the caravan of Corsicana citizens that will attend the opening of the new bridge across the Trinity River at Bonner's Ferry Friday. The caravan will leave the Chamber of Commerce Building at 8 o'clock Friday morning for the trip.

Headed by Joel Trimble's twenty-six piece band, more than fifty cars of Corsicana business men will attend the ceremonies at the bridge opening. The ceremonies will start with a parade across the bridge from the Freestone county side, and then the speaking will be held at the barbecue grounds in Anderson county. Included on the program are Gov. Dan Moody,
United States Senator Earl B.
Mayfield, and Congressman Luther
A. Johnson.

Preparations have been made to accommodate 10,000 to 15,000 people at the big barbecue which will be held at noon.

The best route to the bridge is
by the way of Richland, Streetman and Fairfield. The distance is about 85 miles, and the roads are reported in good condition.

E. D. McCarver, chairman of the special committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in charge of the arrangements for the caravan, announced Thursday that everything was being prepared to show
the citizens of Freestone and Anderson county that they were interested in them.

HUNTERS NUMEROUS THURSDAY MORNING; DOVE SEASON OPENS

The season for killing doves
opened in this section of Texas Thursday morning, Sept. 1, and many hunters went out early in the day and some limit bags were reported. Doves are reported plentiful in various parts of the county.

Many of the larger tracts of land,
however, are posted according to law and only the favored few are permitted to hunt thereon. While the birds are gentle now, it is expected that they will become wild and hard to approach during the next few days, after the hunters
have been out a few times.

A. W. LINDSEY DIES AS RESULT ACCIDENT TUESDAY NIGHT

One man is dead today as the result of a fire truck striking the car in which he was riding, and a woman was critically injured and a boy slightly hurt in the same accident which occurred early Tuesday night at the intersection of Twenty-fourth street and Second avenue. The dead man is A. W. Lindsey, aged 33 years, and the injured woman and boy were Lindsey's wife and son.

The light roadster in which the trio were riding, was struck by a fire truck which was responding to an alarm from the western part of the city. The crash came as the roadster ran out from the side street and the truck was speeding west on Second avenue.

A. W. Lindsey, aged 33 years, suffered a severe shock, a broken pelvis bone in two places and serious internal injuries. He was taken to the Navarro County Hospital, where he lingered until 2:25 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at which hour he died. At press hour no funeral arrangements had been announced. The body was removed to the Sutherland Undertaking parlors where it is being held pending instructions.

Mrs. A. W. Lindsey, aged 29, also suffered severe shock, as well as a broken pelvis in three places, three broken, dislocated and fractures of the left arm and internal injuries.

Martin Lindsey, son of the couple, aged nine years, escaped with a few bruises.

The injured man and boy were rushed to the Navarro County Hospital in the Sutherland ambulance by J. A. McMahon; the woman was carried to the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic in a private car.

Although preliminary examination failed to disclose any fatal injuries, the man and woman were reported in a critical condition Wednesday following X-ray examinations. The boy was resting well Wednesday.

The roadster was carried over 40 yards by the force of the collision and practically demolished when it struck a tree. The fire truck was considerably damaged. J. G. Marr, driver of the truck, was uninjured.

The truck was answering an alarm on Elmwood and Twenty-fifth street and was some distance behind the chief's car and pumper.

Lindsey is an employee of the State Highway Department and had been in Corsicana about three weeks, moving here from Fort Worth.

Claude Ward Jr., of Wortham had a minor operation at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic Tuesday.

Deats, institution store keeper and accountant recently discharged by the superintendent will be investigated by the State Board of Control in a body, the board decided in a resolution passed today.

INJUNCTION CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT BY DISTRICT JUDGE

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Aug. 31.—District Judge J. R. Hamilton today had under advisement Representative A. H. King's petition for an injunction to stop pay of the State Tax Survey Commission after an all-day hearing Tuesday of arguments from both sides, in which the issue narrowed down mainly to a question of whether the commission is formed illegally by including members of the legislature which created it.

Judge Hamilton asked for briefs covering particularly that part of the constitution which says that members of the legislature are ineligible to "offices or places" appointments to which are made by either branch of the legislature.

LARGE DELEGATION WILL ATTEND BRIDGE OPENING, FRIDAY

Plans for a big Corsicana delegation to the opening of the new bridge across Trinity river at Bonner's Ferry Friday are being worked out by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce under the leadership of E. D. McCarver. Between 50 and 100 cars are expected to make the trip for the all-day celebration and barbecue.

The caravan will leave Corsicana at 8 o'clock Friday morning and will reach the bridge in time to take part in the big parade which will start from the Freestone county side of the bridge at 10:30. Following the parade across the bridge, the crowd will assemble at the barbecue grounds on the Anderson county side for the speaking. Among those who will take part on the program are Governor Dan Moody, United States Senator Earl B. Mayfield, United States Congressman Luther A. Johnson, and members of the State Highway Commission.

Preparations are being made for 10,000 to 15,000 people for the celebration. A big barbecue will be held at noon and various forms of entertainment are being arranged for the visitors.

The Corsicana delegation will be headed by Joel Trimble's band of twenty-six pieces. Considerable work has been done by the committee in arousing interest in the trip. Announcements have been made in all of the luncheon clubs and the members of the committee assisted by other leading citizens have been making a personal canvass, and it is thought that at least 50 cars will make the trip.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS ANNOUNCED TUESDAY FOR SCHOOL SESSION

In an announcement given to the Daily Sun today, H. D. Fillers, superintendent of the city schools, has outlined the school districts so that the patrons of the schools may be able to send their children to the proper buildings at the opening of the schools on Monday, Sept. 12, 1927. Plans are being formulated for opening all the schools in Corsicana on Monday, Sept. 12, with a full program for the first day. Heretofore two or three days have been used in some of the schools in getting started. This year, the classes will meet as usual on Monday, Sept. 12, in order for this to be successfully carried out, it will be necessary for all pupils who have not been classified, to report at the school building three or four days ahead of the opening date of school in order to settle all matters of that nature. On the opening day, books will be furnished to pupils, assignments will be made, and the work of the year will be introduced to the children. This program will be carried out in all of the schools of the city.

Stephen F. Austin School District.

Oscar Cook of the Black Hills community exhibited a young monkey-face owl at the Sun office Monday afternoon that he caught in his barn. There was a nest of the owls in the barn and the young ones were almost grown before they were discovered. The owl attracted considerable attention while at the Sun office, a large number never having seen one before.

William Shell Jr. was taken home Tuesday following a minor operation Tuesday. Other patients in the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic are resting well.

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunate who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified in unsolicited letters of gratitude. I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs, then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in good health and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best. Earl G. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives the Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause. From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it where a tonic is indicated. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.
